HOUSE UPROAR AS M.P. GIVEN BLOW ON CHIN

Laborite Shinwell Crosses Floor To Smack Commander Bower

By GEORGE HAMILTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON, April 4.—Emanuel Shinwell indignantly strode from the opposition front bench today, crossed the floor of the House of Commons to the Conservative side and, with the flat of his hand, struck Commander Robert Bower a resounding smack on the left cheek.

The sound of the blow echoed through the astonished chamber. Then uproar began.

It was a question over an application from an assistant secretary of the Duke of Alba's staff for exemption from the five shilling duty license that led to the trouble.

Richard Butler, under-secretary for foreign affairs, gave a detailed reply in which the position was taken that the government was not granting diplomatic status to the Duke of Alba. General Franco's agent in London.

"Withdraw! Withdraw!" the government back benches yelled.

The Speaker, Captain E. A. Pitt-Rivers, rose to quell the rising tumult.

"If the honorable gentleman persists in telling fair truths it is his duty to describe him," Mr. Shinwell hotly returned.

GERMANY ALREADY PLANS AGAINST CZECHOSLOVAKIA

LONDON, April 4.—The Daily Herald (Labor) said today a detailed plan for German action against Czechoslovakia, to be applied after April 16 plebiscite on Austro-German union, is in the hands of the Czechoslovakian government.

The Daily Herald said the plan was seized by police of Kurt von Schuschnigg, former Austrian chancellor, when Vienna Nazi headquarters were searched following the arrest last January of Captain Joseph Leopold, leader of the German Austrian Nazis, and Josef Tuma, his chief lieutenant.

The plan and other von Schuschnigg documents will soon be sent to London, the article said, because the Czechoslovakian government feels it is unable to protect the man who holds them from the German espionage system.

Cabinet Approves Blum's Projects

PARIS, April 4.—The French cabinet approved Premier Leon Blum's financial project, including centralization of all exchange operations in the Bank of France. Financial experts interpreted such centralization as virtual exchange control.

As powerful as Sunday morning in the business scene in this town came in Barcelona during the height of the terrific bombardment by Rebel air raiders. But the unscathed buildings and deserted streets lie under the shadow of the black war cloud when rising after one of the gigantic missiles had exploded nearby. ## Franco's Arms On Devastating Way To Mediterranean

LONDON, April 4.—The Admiralty today ordered the 42,100-ton battle cruiser Hord to proceed to Barcelona to help in any evacuation of the Spanish government capital which may be necessary.

HENDAYE, France, April 4.—The Spanish insurgent offensive entered its decisive phase today, with General Franco's army striking down the main highway to Barcelona and the Ebro valley to the sea after having taken two immediate objectives, Lerida and Gandesa.

Spanish insurgents announced advances in a great battle which may be the decisive struggle in Spain's civil war.

Insurgent officers said their troops, fighting toward the delta of the Ebro river, pushed to within eight miles of the city of Turis, with the Mediterranean in sight—only 16 miles from the insurgent advance guard.

The "march of the army" General Garcia Valino's Spanish insurgent troops co-operated with an Italian corps in the drive. At the end of the afternoon they were before the village of Cherta, about six miles northwest of Turis.

The reported government soldiers, who "were in disorder toward the sea."

The insurgent offensive toward the Spanish coast had succeeded in capturing the town of Cherta, a strategic point, and had advanced four miles in width within several hours.

PLANES OVER FANDOR
With the first glimmer of dawn, Franco's bombing planes roared over the Pando mountains south of Gandesa and just west of where the Ebro river winds toward the sea.

Tons of bombs plummeted out of the early morning sky—a warning of the people in the force prelude.

SNOWFALLS IN ALBERTA GAIN FOR FARMERS

Improved Outlook Prevails In Agricultural Areas West Canada

Proof of the heavier winter snowfall to be found in the hard-spillways of dams recently erected in southern Saskatchewan to conserve spring runoff, and the definite increase in impounded waters of much of the former drought area. Considered the important factor, however, is that most of the moisture of last fall, depleted neither by weed growth nor evaporation, has been held available for germination.

ADDITIONAL RAIN
By provinces, Manitoba with normal fall precipitation and above normal snowfall, secured an additional inch of rain at the end of March to make the present outlook as promising as any for many years. Sub-soil moisture is still deficient in the restricted drought area of 1937 but reports indicate satisfactory moisture conditions for germination.

Moisture conditions over a wide area of Saskatchewan have also been improved, as compared with the spring of last year. Precipitation for last fall was better than

Entire Armament of Port Dismantled, Shipped to Pacific Coast

HALIFAX, April 4.—"Halifax is being stripped rapidly of any semblance of defence against possible wartime attacks," the Halifax Chronicle said today in a newspaper story.

"Within a few weeks almost the entire armament of the city and port has been dismantled and shipped to the Pacific coast."

"Aside from Chebucto Head, from which a 22 gun battery stands an guard for Canada, every battery in and about Halifax is being dismantled."

First Estimators Pore Over Reports From Hundreds Of Farm Communities — $720,000,000 Production in U.S. Seen

By FRANKLIN MULLIN
Associated Press Foreign Writer.
CHICAGO, April 4.—A half dozen Chicago crop experts, preparing their first estimates of 1938 wheat production in the United States, today pored over reports from hundreds of farm communities which indicated that harvest of the biggest crop in seven years, valued as high as $720,000,000, is possible.

At market now wheat is quoted around 40 cents a bushel. On the farm it is around 45 cents. These prices are the lowest for April since 1934. A year ago wheat was about $1.25 at harvest.

General satisfactory growing conditions must be maintained to make the record production possible, traders pointed out. Good moisture is necessary, particularly in drought districts, during the growing season. Frost and freezing must have tender plants now suffering in the southwest and insect and cut attacks later in the summer must not be serious.

WINTER WHEAT
Winter wheat crop forecasts requested the past few days by Chicago experts who have received reports from hundreds of growers range from 80,000,000 to 754,000,000 bushels, indicating the largest crop since 1914 when 820,000,000 bushels were harvested. Last year's production was 680,000,000 bushels. Total spring wheat production is usually below 200,000,000 bushels.

Observers said there was a possibility the winter wheat area standing for harvest will exceed the 1919 record of 80,000,000 bushels, which produced a total of 790,000,000 bushels. The 1931 record crop was produced on 43,000,000 acres.

Ask Conciliation Board To Settle Dispute On Wages
CALGARY, April 4.—The federal department of labor will be asked to appoint a conciliation board to settle a wage dispute between domestic coal operators from 26 Drumheller mines and the workers' members of District 18, United Mine Workers of America.

It will be the second board sought by the operators and miners. Last week steam coal operators and workers struck in the southern Alberta coal fields. British Columbia miners made application for a board when James Williams, president of the conference here failed.

The 26 domestic coal mines and coal miners seek a 20 per cent increase in wages and shorter working hours. The operators urge a 10 per cent pay cut with continuance of the present eight-hour shift.

Beet Growers Of Alberta Allege Sugar Monopoly

W. E. Simpson, Edmonton Barrister, Presents Submissions Before Rowell Commission Here Saturday

The beet sugar industry of southern Alberta, whose production in 1936 exceeded $6,000,000, is controlled by cane sugar refining interests whose business methods and financial structure should be investigated, it was submitted by the Alberta Co-operative Sugar Beet Growers' Association to the Rowell Commission for Saturday afternoon.

The brief, presented by W. E. Simpson of Edmonton, proposed that, as the private prerogatives were the logical market for the Alberta product, freight tariffs be adjusted to make these markets available.

All rehabilitation schemes for the sugar beet industry, the brief said, are of no use unless the beet growers are enabled to produce more profitably into irrigation development than at present.

ENCOURAGE EXPANSION

HORE-BELISHA ADVOCATES 17 AS JOIN-UP AGE

Secretary of War Thinks Recruiting Age Should Be Lowered

LONDON, April 4.—Victor Hore-Belisha, Great Britain's anti-fascist secretary of war, has handed his official report by which he is advocating that the age for army recruiting be lowered from 18 to 17 years.

When Labor members raised a point on the House of Commons Friday over enlistment, the war minister answered:

"To be quite frank, I can see no reason why a man should not be allowed to enlist frankly and openly at the age of 17 years."

Labor, protesting that many youths under 18 were being accepted into the army because of false statements, Mr. Hore-Belisha stated they were 18, introduced an amendment to the army bill to give the government the right to obtain from enlistees under 18 reduced certificates. It was defeated 121 to 61.

RECRUITING RECORDS

The 40-year-old war minister, who is recruiting records by inspecting young Britons with higher age, better living and better opportunities—wants a fighting army that can be moved anywhere swiftly to match the highly-trained troops of Europe.

He is equipped now on a plan to organize Britain's "strategic reserve" to create a "pool" of men and women and revamp the organization of the army divisions.

Mr. Hore-Belisha would like a conscription bill to give him a large number of young men and women of fighting power with a minimum of men.

STRATEGIC RESERVE

The role of the "strategic reserve," as defined by the war minister, is "reinforcement of the front line, defence of territories, and co-operation in the defence of territories of any ally we wish have in war."

With thousands of troops landed in India, currently the pivot of the whole army plan, Mr. Hore-Belisha would make "strategic resources," as India could reinforce Egypt or Palestine quickly or the reverse.

In the Waller's camp, thousands of Nipponese had been arrested before the fall of Chongqing on Nov. 25, 1937.

Chamberlain's Hope For Anglo-Italian Friendship Pact Said Near

AGREEMENT IS SAID EXPECTED IN TWO WEEKS

Prime Minister Faces Farther Opposition on Spanish Policy

By J. C. STARK
Associated Press Staff Writer
LONDON, April 4.—Prime Minister Chamberlain's earnest hope for Anglo-Italian friendship pact seemed near realization last night.

Some informed diplomatic quarters predicted a formal agreement would be signed within two weeks to end the strain that has existed on relations between London and Rome since the Ethiopian war of 1935.

French insurance plans, meanwhile, heightened the prospect of an early end to Spain, long still war which has been a source of irritation between Great Britain and Italy.

FACES NEW ATTACK

Mr. Chamberlain, driving for an Italian agreement and for a speed-up in rearmament, faced still another opposition attack on his Spanish policy of strict non-intervention this week.

The Labor party planned to offer a motion of censure in the House of Commons today, again demanding arms for the Spanish Government—a step which the Minister is determined not to take—and also calling for a general election.

With reports of progress in the negotiations in Rome, diplomatic sources gave three reasons for expecting an agreement by Easter. They were:

1.—The scope of the talks has been reduced.

2.—Premier Mussolini wants an agreement before Reichsmarschall Hitler goes to visit him in May and the Italian foreign minister, Count Ciano, who is negotiating, is planning to go to Poland at Easter.

3.—Britain wants the agreement before the 10-day parliamentary recess at Easter.

BARGAINING WEAPONS

Despite the importance Mr. Chamberlain places on the talks, informed diplomatic sources predicted their main value would be as bargaining weapons for both sides.

Those sources said the subjects covered were so limited the agreement promised to be little more than a reiteration of previous ones plus a reaffirmation of the Suez canal convention of 1936. The convention stipulated free passage through the canal for all vessels both in peace time and in war.

MADRID GETS SUNDAY VISIT OF BOMBERS

A balcony and ripped away most of the building.

Five minutes before, this correspondent was sitting on the balcony with many others. Our first warning was a shell which burst in the garden just below. The detonation was accompanied by the whistle of other shells passing overhead and dropping into the Prado. Then came showers of shells that drove everyone underground.

A. P. IS HIT

An office building housing the Associated Press bureau was hit but the damage was less than that suffered in a previous bombardment. First reports were that every room of Madrid was shelled heavily.

Two persons were killed and five injured in a central theatre where parts of the roof fell in. The residential section adjoining University City was the most heavily hit of all. Several children were injured near Madrid's old gateway by a shell.

The shelling seemed to have been abandoned only when ammunition was exhausted.

General Jose Miaja said the bombardment was unprovoked, unprovoked inasmuch as the Madrid front was completely quiet. He called it a "terrorist" attack upon the civilian population.

In the later stages, the shelling mixed like a gully fire with the city as the insurgents shifted their aim from one section to another.

Hittler Birthplace Proclaimed Mecca Of German Youth

BRUNAU, Austria, April 4.—In presence of Hittler, members of the Hitler youth movement, this birthplace of Adolf Hitler was proclaimed Sunday as a mecca for German youth. Flags representing all districts of greater Germany were unfurled during the ceremony.

DEBT BEYOND EVER PAYING PREMIER SAYS

and they would not be interested in dividends any more."

"I laughed heartily, for it revealed to me how little he understood of the vagaries of the present debt-debating system. He evidently did not know that not a single year's crop is sowed or harvested, not a herd of cattle, sheep or swine is raised and marketed without creating debts bearing heavy interest charges," the premier said.

"The tremendous load of debt, private, municipal, school, provincial and federal is so great that we cannot, except by further borrowing pay even the interest on that debt let alone think of paying the principal sum. Thus further debt has become the first crash of economic chaos."

"It dumbsounds me how some otherwise clever men can be so indifferent when the complete breakdown is nearer than most of us realize. Gradually the people are finding it impossible to pay the taxes demanded by the virtual governing bodies but they do not interest and general charges of the money monopolists."

KEEP VALUES OFF

"I should like to see a good crop this year, but it will be necessary to keep the values off the market. If we have one, or the farmers will be no better off."

He said that he had read a story a few days ago illustrating man's strange attitude to God's blessing. A farmer was looking at his young growing crop of oats which promised well. Some one passing stopped and remarked that it was a fine crop and the young farmer declared that it was a fine crop and that God Almighty would only leave it alone, it would be a bumper crop. The crop stayed where it was. God left it alone.

Later in his address, the premier declared that "Our economic life in Alberta should be free of margins, of surpluses, of overflows. The butcher calls, we cannot have everything he has in stock. We do not need everything. But we like him to greet us with that blessed word 'which'."

"It makes us feel we are living in free association with friends in a rich province. We see all clearly to choose. Freedom in association makes a strong, virile nation. And our sponsors for tonight, the United, the Popular and the Overlaid Social Credit groups of Sedgewick want to impress this truth on the minds of the people."

WHICH DO YOU WANT?

"Which do you want, democracy or monopoly?" The rule by the people according to what they want or rule by a few rich people according to what they want. "Which do you want, the welfare of the people generally or the special privileges of the few money monopolists?"

"Which do you want, freedom in free association to choose or economic bondage under a debt-creating system? Which do you want, God or Mammon? Our sponsors want you to note that now is the time to choose."

Continuing he said that "Our sponsors wish to point out very definitely that many of our people lack that freedom in association, to choose what they want because so many of our citizens in Canada are indifferent, unwilling or prejudiced toward this great stand."

FRANCO ARMS ADVANCING ON COAST POINTS

exercised during the night. Through the darkened hours the two armies fought under the phantom light of field flares and searchlights, often meeting in bitter hand-to-hand combat.

"No passes!" They shall not pass!" the defenders yelled as they fought and dug new entrenchments. "Remember Madrid!"

Like the defenders of Madrid made under siege for nearly 17 months. Few military observers believed, however, that the neck of the "mouglins" could be defended if the insurgents won a foothold on the banks of the lower Ebro.

Insurgent Banner Floats From Steeple In Lerida

LERIDA, Spain, April 4.—Insurgent General Franco's red and gold banner floated from the steeple of the Catholic cathedral of Lerida at 3 p.m. 10 a.m. M.S.T. today as the insurgent armies pushed two miles beyond the provincial capital in their drive to the sea.

At 4 p.m. five insurgent tanks joined the powerful government army defence positions and rumbled into the streets of the town. Hundreds of government militiamen threw down their arms and plunged into the Segre river along the eastern limits of the town in flight.

Infantry and cavalry detachments threw hand grenades and made a desperate stand in the northern parts of the city. Machine-guns fired from the tanks and scores of gunfire broke the last semblance of government resistance and permitted the insurgents to complete occupation of the town in less than an hour.

Hungary Soothed

BUDAPEST, April 4.—Admiral Nicholas Horthy, regent of Hungary, told his nation in a broadcast from the royal palace last night there was no basis for "disquieting" rumors over German expansion. "Hungary means to keep her independence," he declared.

"Reasoning against prejudice is like fighting against a shadow. It exhausts the reasoner without affecting the prejudice. Argument cannot do the work of instruction against a stubborn mind, any more than blows can take the place of sunlight with a sick body."

"Let us compose the great and powerful idea of freedom in association into one word 'which' this night. Which shall it be? Maintain your right to choose. Always remember that our failure to obtain does not deny the existence of that which we desire or need."

Later he declared that "If freedom in association is ever tapped this world will be a different place to live in."

The premier referred to the request he had previously made to secretaries of Social Credit groups asking for the number of members of each registered with the Alberta Social Credit league. "In order that we may have full knowledge of our strength. I also asked for the number of members held per month."

Commenting on this, he said that "The reports are pouring in very rapidly and I appreciate the promptness of the replies. There is still some mistake in the exact information required. I wanted the number of members registered with the Alberta Social Credit league headquarters. We want to know the number of members so that we can send out the exact information. One group sent the number of members as 41 but instead this group has not as yet reported."

TWELVE DIDN'T TELL

"Twelve groups did not tell me the number of members in their group. Ninety-three groups reported more members than registered with the League. These two should be checked. Each member should have a membership card. Forty-four groups reported less members than registered with the League. These groups therefore have a stronger representation than their report would indicate. Thirty groups were accurate."

"Now I know there may be recalcitrations on the way to the League that might account for these differences but I should like to hear them accurate. If time permits I may drop you a line calling your attention to these deficiencies. I want every group to get all the credit due them for the numerical strength of the group."

"A number of the groups have informed me that their numbers are much greater than the registration with the league would indicate. They say that in some areas the people cannot afford the membership dues. I regret that any good Social Crediters should not have a membership card. I should therefore like to ask group officials to send in the names of those who are sincerely Social Credit but are in such circumstances that they cannot afford the membership dues."

MEMBERSHIP CARD

He said that "I want every true Social Crediter to have a membership card to show that he is one, to give him admission to any Social Credit group and the right to any literature that is distributed."

The premier then said he wanted three things: (1) Check up the number of members in each group. (2) A list of sincere Social Crediters who cannot afford the membership dues. (3) Let the stronger groups put on some entertainment to raise funds to donate to the League for the purpose of seeing that every true Social Crediter should have a membership card.

of seeing that every true Social Crediter should have a membership card. Many letters were acknowledged by the premier with British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec and Nova Scotia represented among the correspondents. Most of the communications were of a congratulatory nature in respect to the recent by-election in the East Edmonton constituency and from Saskatchewan, one writer declared that, when the premier went to that province, he would find the people slightly behind him. Most of the communications expressed faith in the government and in the premier's leadership of it, with the hope of success in the fight for economic freedom.

BECOMING FAMOUS

Letters also were acknowledged from the United States, including Portland, Ore.; New London and from Minnesota. The premier said that a copy of a Minneapolis paper showed a group including himself, President Roosevelt, James Farley and also portraying Mussolini, Hitler, Stalin and General Franco. "This Social Credit proposal is spreading in recognition," commented the premier.

He also acknowledged letters from Chelford, Kent, England, and from Mr. Scotland. "And in the world we move," he said.

Dealing with the theme of the "which" which the premier said that it was an interrogative pronoun implying an alternative choice, he informed us that the party addressed has that freedom in association which enables him to choose one thing at a time. These three groups of Sedgewick maintain that all our citizens must demand their sovereign rights. The people of a province the size of Alberta should have the right to govern themselves as long as they do not interfere with the citizens of other provinces.

"They maintain that there is room for democratic freedom. They resent and resist the implication that is emanating from the international finance that all their legislation is open to disallowance even though it is with the legal jurisdiction of the province."

"They are in this movement a threat against true democracy for which every true Britisher stands. They maintain that such a spirit was not evident when the Confederation Act was considered and if it was, the provinces would not have considered it."

"A true confederation can only be among sovereign states and any suggestion contrary to this destroys all freedom, both of the state and of the individual and places our liberty-loving people under a dictatorship foreign to the true concept of a confederation."

The premier later said that "There is no power that can resist that of the will of the people properly co-ordinated. The trouble is people can sometimes be led to think more of the detail or form than of the important thing, freedom in security."

The premier said that "There are all those who say 'show us your Social Credit.' They want to see point out to them the things all about them they do not understand. No that is just general relationship. They want to see something strange and outstanding. They fail to see that it is the adjustment of those relationships that makes the difference."

He said that "So our association must press on, united and of one accord in their fight for freedom in association, true democracy, while at the same time trusting in the God of Heaven to lead them out of the bonds of economic slavery. Six hundred thousand lives were delivered from Egypt by co-operation and definite faith. There is no reason why 80,000 can not be delivered from economic bondage in the same way."

THE COST OF POWER GIVES RAIL 5-3 WIN

Two Extra Periods Forced by Bearcats

Smoke Eaters Start Power Play for 40 Minutes To Come From Behind 3-1 Deficit—Next Game in Calgary

By Jack Kelly

FOR FORTY minutes here Saturday night Trail Smoke Eaters turned loose a power attack such as Edmonton has rarely if ever seen before to come from behind a 3-1 deficit and beat Port Arthur Bearcats 5-3 in the first game of the western senior hockey final. The second and third games will be in Calgary on Tuesday and Thursday and if a fourth is needed it will be played in Saskatoon on Saturday.

Lightning threats by Hugh O'Leary and Star King, coupled with brilliant defensive work by the entire team gave Port Arthur a 3-1 lead at the end of the second period. Then Trail unleashed its power—the ability to come through in the pinches that has made it talk of western hockeydom this year. By the end of the third period the score was tied at 3-3. The first overtime went scoreless and then in the first half of the second overtime period Cronie and Johnston scored to clinch another victory for the Smoke Eaters.

Up until the third period, Trail wasn't clicking. The line of Duchak, Kowalewski and McCredy just couldn't get anything done right. Smart backchecking by the Bearcats had a lot to do with keeping this dangerous trio bottled up.

THRILL A SECOND
Soon after the third period started, Trail sent five men in on the Port Arthur defense line and from then on some 300 fans were treated to a thrill a second. In the first overtime, two Trail players were penalized three minutes each and their team-mates gave a display that the fans will remember for a long time. Two Trail forwards would carry the puck into the Port Arthur defense line, skid three or four feet as possible and then shoot the rubber back to the remaining Smoke Eaters behind the Trail blue line. He shot the puck back into the Bearcats' defense area and his wingmen were in after it.

This system of using a furious offense as a defensive measure kept Port Arthur helpless although they had a two-man advantage over Trail.

Another feature of the Trail offense was the spread of scoring points, goals being counted by forwards, Joe Benoit, Johnny McCredy and Ab Cronie, and defensemen Jimmy Morris and Tom Johnston.

DEADLY PAIR
Stan King, right wing, fired two goals for the latelead went passed to Hugh O'Leary for the other. O'Leary moved back to the defense late this season, made the plays for both King and Morris.

The game was less than two minutes old when Benoit took a pass from Bunny Dane and went in close before driving the puck into the top outside corner of the Port Arthur net. Smoke Eaters' netminder, Duke Scodellaro, had no chance on the equalizer six minutes later. O'Leary rounded the goal on a rush and passed in front of the net. King, whose shot was screened by a mate of players.

After two minutes of the second period O'Leary made another rush around the goal and again passed to King, uncovered 30 feet in front of the net. King's rising shot beat Scodellaro easily.

GOALIE FUMBLERS
Bearcats gained a two-goal margin on another O'Leary rush four minutes later. The speedy defenseman shot from the blue line, missed the rebound and was going back when King's blind pass from the corner hit his stick. Scodellaro caught O'Leary's hard shot from 15 feet out but fumbled and the puck rolled across the line.

Trail unleashed all its power at the start of the third but great work by Goalie Jimmy Hill held off Smoke Eaters for seven minutes. Then with five men inside Bearcats' blue line, Duke Scodellaro passed from behind the net and McCredy slapped the puck past Hill from 15 feet.

DAME TALLIES
Seconds later Bunny Dane put the puck behind Hill and the play was called back to the blue line. Morris, only Smoke Eaters who learned his hockey lesson, took the tying goal at 14 minutes mark. He was going at Trail speed when he hit the net. Dane doing pass a few feet out and he went over the Port Arthur goalie as the puck went under his legs. He hit his back in the crash but was back on the ice in a few minutes.

Cronie, former Trail forward, finally notched the winning goal after two minutes of the second overtime period. He took a pass from Benoit, just inside the blue line and worked in close to beat Hill with a low shot. Bearcats were short-handed 2½ minutes later when Johnston, parked in front of the net, skated down the Bearcats' pass past Hill from 10 feet out, to increase the margin.

LINEUPS
Port Arthur: Hill, Benoit, Gies, Kowalewski, King, Kowalewski, Star King, Duchak, Benoit, McCredy, Cronie.
Trail: Scodellaro, Johnston, Star King, Cronie, Benoit, Dane, Benoit.

ORVIS GUEST SOCRED FETE AT WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG, April 4—Orvis Kennedy, newly-elected member of parliament for Edmonton East, criticized the Dominion government for permitting the Quebec padlock law to remain on the statute books of that province while it disallowed certain Alberta legislation enacted last August.

Democracy consists of giving the electorate the things it demands, Mr. Kennedy said Saturday night at a dinner given in honor of himself and his wife by the Manitoba Social Credit association.

"When the people demand a certain thing they should have it," he said. "The government should not tell them what is good for them and what is not good for them."

Referring to the padlock law, Mr. Kennedy said: "You couldn't hold a meeting such as this in Quebec. In Quebec you cannot pass a copy of the Bible around because they claim the New Testament teaches Communism. The press does not tell you these things, but tries to suppress them. And a man had to come out from Quebec to tell us about them."

JASPER, April 4.—The final chapter has been written to the eventful life of Donald "Curly" Phillips, one of the great pioneers of the Rocky Mountain area. The Jasper United church was filled on Sunday afternoon and more than a hundred waited outside to pay their last respects to the memory of the veteran guide.

A wealth of flowers attested to the honored place he holds in the community, in Canada and the United States. The services were conducted by the Rev. R. E. Finlay, assisted by Rev. R. E. Bradshaw.

and he was laid to rest in the Jasper cemetery. The pallbearers were: T. C. Young, Ben Miller; Closson Otto, Jack Hargreaves, Jack Brewster and A. B. Webb.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Spectators of United States congress inspected on Saturday the army's biggest bombing plane, which Louis B. Johnson, assistant secretary of war,
